Meera loves gardening. Every evening after finishing her homework, she goes to the small garden behind her house. She waters the plants carefully and pulls out the weeds. Her garden has colourful flowers like roses, marigolds, and sunflowers. She feels happy when she sees butterflies and bees flying around the flowers. Meera's neighbours often stop by to look at her garden because it is always clean and beautiful.

(Para 1)

Meera's mother has given her a small notebook to write about her plants. Meera notes down when she plants a seed, when it grows, and when it blooms. She also draws pictures of her favourite flowers. On weekends, her father helps her plant new seeds. Gardening makes Meera patient, teaches her to care for nature, and helps her learn how plants grow. Meera dreams of having a big garden one day where everyone can come and enjoy the beauty of nature. (Para 2)
